

Sorrento symphony

BY CHRIS THURMOTT

Built near the coast, this stunning three-storey home presents the ultimate in luxury and elegance, while still being a functional and family-friendly home.

Zorzi Builders Design and Development Manager David Reynolds said the combination of the home's location in Sorrento with the sheer size of the rooms and the use of white throughout gave it a real sense of casual elegance.

"It is a home where the quality and formality are evident, however the style and open feeling make the home liveable and casual," he said.

There are four bedrooms found on the uppermost storey of this home. Two of these include access to their own ensuite while three have walk-in robes, with the fourth featuring a large built-in robe.

Mr Reynolds said the master suite was definitely the pick of the litter, with its voluminous L-shape layout, custom makeup station and matching lighting making it the envy of many.

A well-appointed ensuite completes the master suite, with a freestanding bath and massive walk-in shower.

Described by Mr Reynolds as "a sophisticated combination of design, volume and light", the double-height entryway boasts a stunning crystal chandelier.

"A crystal chandelier over a black grand piano creates a crescendo of colour and light at certain times of the day that is quite spectacular," Mr Reynolds said.

The feature staircase with crisp glass balustrade leads off from the entryway and brings the below-ground custom cellar

of style and space

into view through a plate glass viewing window. The cellar includes American oak feature timber racking.

"Off the custom cellar is a dedicated music room for the owner's sons to practise their drums and guitars to their heart's content," Mr Reynolds said.

"At over 50sqm, this room is the ultimate man cave."

Mr Reynolds said the outside entertaining area had been designed to be an integral part of the overall home design.

The alfresco is serviced directly from the scullery that adjoins the spectacular kitchen, which has large bi-fold doors to completely link the inside and outside space.

Bi-fold doors feature heavily in the games room, linking the space with both the kitchen and the alfresco. Their inclusion affords optimum choice over the size of the different spaces.

"Entertaining means space and the ability to expand and retract the home at will, depending on numbers and weather," Mr Reynolds said.

The rest of the outside space is dominated by the swimming pool that is fed by the built-in water feature in the rear retaining wall and planters.

Mr Reynolds said this made for a dramatic backdrop to the backyard as well as the rear portion of the home.

With no fewer than six living areas, this home epitomises the symbiosis of an elegant design with a functional living environment.

The inclusion of numerous windows allows natural light to flood the home and provides spectacular ocean views from a number of different areas.
